

Characteristics of a Committed Professional reads the professional journals, attends the professional meetings which are designed to refresh and upgrade the skill level and the theoretical bases gets added graduate study or attends special workshops or institutes

The professional takes considerable responsibility for sharing knowledge with other colleagues and for extending professional knowledge through research

Marjorie East (1980)